CLASS HISTORY

Back in August of 1950, a group of excited students from Alarka, Almond, Bryson City, Cherokee, and Whittier began our trip on the "long curvy" road to becoming Seniors of Swain County High School.

Although we were the most thrilled class to enter high school, we were probably the greenest. Any move we made appeared uncertain because of the scornful looks of the Junior and Senior Class. We finished the Freshman Year with a minimum of mistakes and a small loss of our fellow classmen.

In our Sophomore year we all looked forward with sorrow to our first day in Biology. We had many picnics, on which the food seemed to disappear at once. One hundred and Sixty-nine Biology home work papers later we left the Sophomore Class with several "stragglers" remaining.

We thought, "Oh, boy, now comes the year we have been looking forward to -- our Junior Year, when we will get our class rings. We had fun, but a great deal of work was needed to raise money for our Junior-Senior Banquet. We raised the money, and in our opinion the banquet was the best ever given to Seniors. Only a few fell by the way-side this year.

At last we became "dignified" Seniors. With the helpful aid of Mr. Wikle and Miss Colville as our sponsors, we put over quite a few deals to raise money for the Annual and our trip to Washington. All the money-raising campaigns were fun.

What does this amount to? Some say little, but, we as Seniors of 1954, believe we have reached one of our hard-earned goals. With the guidance we have received in Swain High, we are sure that we will be better prepared to face our future.

JAMES CLINE, JIMMY OWENBY, and RICHARD GRANT

CLASS PROPHECY

Douglas Gossett, who is now a famous American World News Reporter, met recently in an International News Conference in Washington, D. C. From fellow correspondents he learned the latest news of the Senior Class of Swain County High School of 1954, from which he graduated. He will now report on each one and tell where they are and what each is doing. So now to Douglas Gossett from the International News Room in Washington. April 1, 1964.

Thank you.....

From information received, there is proof that not one of the graduates of the class of '54 from Swain Hi have made a failure in life. So, now, if you will stay with me a few moments I shall tell you where each one is and what they are doing.

Bonnie Smith, Louise Wiggins, and Jean Shook are with the USO which is now entertaining American Troops in Europe.

Laurel June Thomas is now owner of the Swain Drug Company in Bryson and Nettie Mae Messer is her able assistant.

Shirley Cunningham and Emma Sneed Adams, who are both married to Navy Admirals, are now in the Hawaiian Islands modeling the new chemically-structured hula outfits.

Zane Welch is now proud owner of the Knoxville Journal. Maurice Wilson is his new editor and Clyde Tabor is his favorite salesman.

Harold Sifton and Steve Henderson are owners of the Tarry-a-While Ranch in Northern Montana which has a 50-acre fish pond for fishermen who wish to stop for a nice vacation. They also have 26 acres of wilderness for wildlife for hunters.

Frances Coggins is now owner of Coggins Trailer Agency which is now operating out of Raleigh.

Reg Moody's mortuary business has picked up since the citizens of Swain County have been eating the chemically-treated steaks that Charles Morrow has produced since he has become owner of the new Moola Market which was recently opened in Bryson City. Clayton Campbell, the famous scientist created the chemical which is wonderful seasoning for fresh steaks.

Loren Miller and Richard Grant are doing Evangelistic and Missionary work in South America. Since they've been there, there have been over four million conversions to Christianity. This is considered a record for just two young missionaries.

Joan Wiggins and Hazel Cline have opened their own beauty shop in Bryson City. They are specializing in the new This-is-it hairdo.

Bobby Robinson and Warren Cochran, who have been working on a secret project in the Arizona Desert, have released it and it has made a hit the world over. They have invented the fabulous new Easy Slip-on baby diapers which require no pins.

Billy Williamson, J. T. Cunningham, and Max Hall, who are graduates from N.R.O.T.C. at Chapel Hill, are now newly installed Navy Officers. J. T. is with the Atlantic sub group, Max is with a Pacific diving crew, and Bill is working with new recruits in San Diego.

Barbara Roberts, Shirley Arvey, and Patsy Hicks, who are now famous artists, own and operate the Barveicks Art School in New York.

Jennings Byrd is now the new Chief of the Forest Rangers in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

James Cline is now a famous History Professor at Harvard University. Merlin Casada recently graduated from there and is now an Attorney for Defense for Movie Stars in Hollywood. He is now working on the divorce case for Bonnie Burnette, the Thrice-married actress who has taken the place of Marilyn Monroe. She is getting this divorce so she can marry Windell Crisp, the new screen hit from Broadway who is her co-star in "The Stars Shine."

Steve Fuller is the new Math teacher at ole Swain Hi. He also sees that old Alarka stays kept in good order.

J. H. Gibson is the famous inventor of the fabulous new Ford with the fold-up steering wheel. He is now working on sponge fenders. If it works, he will be rich.

Fred McHan is the new popular hill-billy singer who has made thousands of American teen-agers swoon. He can't get married because he's afraid of the girls.

Bill Turpin is the new chief of the N.A.T.O. force in Paris. His official title is Major General.

Reeves Johnson is the principal at old Swain Hi and Robert Gunter is his assistant and an excellent geometry teacher.

Louise Birchfield is now stenographer for the famous Hollywood lawyer, Merlin Casada.

Ruth Cochran, Kathleen Bowers, and Norma Lee Bowers are private secretaries for such famous stars as Ava Gardner, Lana Turner, and Peter Lawford.

Joyce Calhoun Jones is raising little Joneses and on the sideline she is the Home Economic teacher at Swain Hi.

June Cody is the wife of a famous World Airliner pilot who sees the world twice a week. Winona Crisp is the hostess on the plane that June's husband pilots.

Edith Coffey is still struggling for her Master's Degree from the University of Tennessee.

Martha Nell Ensley is, with her husband, the new owner of Dent's Cafe, the largest in W. N. C. With her six little Ensleys pitching in and doing the work, she does not have to hire any aid whatsoever.

Norma Crisp is now a famous make-up artist in Hollywood, California.

Kate Davis has taken the place of the retiring Mrs. Hilda Myers who was head of the Public Welfare Department in Swain County.

Gwen Thomas Fortner, who is the new owner of Thomas Chevrolet Company in Bryson City, is making millions from the new glass top Chevies. JoAnn Welch is her General Manager.

Pearl Gasaway is now a missionary in India. She is doing excellent work.

Theresa Hyatt, who recently received a music scholarship from U. N. C., is a famous pianist and she will make her debut in Carnegie Hall in New York in April.

Velma Kirkland is a famous new interior decorator who is now remodeling the White House for President Jack Burnette and the First Lady. Incidentally, Leonard Breedlove is the new Vice-President.

Marie McMahan is married to the school janitor at Bryson and sees that old Swain Hi is run straight. Thanks to you, Marie.

Carolyn Medford is now completing her new million-dollar home which she is financing by the sale of the new plastic Dodges and Plymouths.

Irene Medford and Betty Messer recently completed their Nurse's training at U. N. C. They will soon go to the Pacific as Navy Nurses.

Ruby Shook is still struggling for Nobel Prize for modern poetry. Sure hope she wins. The famous poet is now living in Oak Ridge.

Barbara Suggs Cochran is new manager of the Western Auto Associate Store in Bryson City and making millions with the new color TV sets.

Ann Sutton is now the U. S. History teacher at Swain Hi.

June Evelyn Seay is the new manager of Belk's Department Store in Bryson City.

Rita Lee Williams is the famous pianist in Guy Lombardo's Orchestra.

Dave Golden, Jack Game, and Jimmy Owenby each own a famous service station in Bryson City. This incident has led to the finest competition between any service station operators. Dave has a Texaco, Jack Cities Service, and Jimmy an Esso.

Clarence Lequire is now a famous deep sea fisherman. Since he is also a Taxidermist, he can stuff his own prize fishes and save money.

Since this is proof enough that the Senior Class of 1954 has really been a success and aid to the world, we leave with the Class of '55 this thought, "Can you do as well?"

Dear Bonnie.

It has been a very happy pleasure of going to school with you during the past 4 years in high school. We as a class have had our ups & downs but when we graduate it will be the saddest day of my life. To you Bonnie you have helped to make the class what it is. You have ^{Compliments} leadership &
